Any help on Patrick or Catherine's past, along with filling in the gaps on the children would be appreciated.), Mark Allen (Normoyle) Michalski, chippewa29@aol.com

LALLY - (My great-grandfather was Patrick LALLY a son of Michaellem or Michael LALLY and Mary TANSEY. Patrick was born at Srahloughra on the Suck River near Ahascragh in November 1853. The landlord of the property at the time when Patrick was born was Sir William Moss MAHON. Patrick eventually came to Australia in early January 1876 but that is another story. Patrick's parents Michael LALLY and Mary TANSEY had been married in Roscommon in December 1842. I believe that they had thirteen children eight of whom survived to adulthood. Six sons and two daughters reached adulthood. Their sons were Malachi (who was born in Roscommon on October 25th 1843), John, Michael, James, William and Patrick (my GGF) who was born in November 1853. The two daughters were Kate (later MILLAR) and Moira (later McLOGHLIN). Patrick's grandfather and Michael's father was Malachi LALLY who had married a lady by the name of COSGROVE. I do not know her Christian name. Apart from their son Michael (Patrick's father and my GGGfather) I believe that Malachi and his wife had a number of other children. These included Peter, Thomas, James, Nancy BURNS and Mary COYNE. Peter was a sponsor at Patrick's baptism with Mary KEAN. There is a mention that Nancy BURNS/BYRNES was at a later date in Jersey city in the USA. From what information I have I believe that Patrick's brothers James and Michael may have stayed in Ahascragh. Patrick's mother Mary TANSEY gave birth to her last child on March 8th 1865 at Srahloughra but appears to have died at the same place three weeks later. Thereafter my GGF Patrick and his father Michael removed to Hartford USA later that year. I do not know if the child born that March, Honor survived or if she went to America, but from the information in my possession I do not believe that she reached adulthood. The information I have says that Patrick and his father left Ireland in 1865 for Hartford and that "Uncle" Peter was at Derrycheel nearby. I don't know where Derrycheel is and whether it is near Ahascragh or near Hartford. Uncle Tom (Patrick's father's brother) was also in America so I am assuming that the family in the usual Irish manner gradually migrated to America and presumably to the Hartford area. I believe that Patrick's brother Michael stayed in Ahascragh and was a grocer/baker by trade. His brother James is said to have also been "living a few miles away" and I am presuming that to be Ahascragh. Patrick left New Bedford USA in November 1875 for Melbourne but I believe his father Michael stayed in the States with other family members.), James Lally, jalally@bigpond.com

LALLY (LALLEY), Ballymacward, Kiltulla, Attymon, 1800-1885, (Hanoria LALLY, born July 8, 1847 in Attymon; married in Catholic Chapel in Kiltulla to Thomas LALLY, born Nov 29, 1829 in Ballymacward; Hanoria's father-Thomas LALLY, born 1813 in Attymon, married to Mary CONNELLY (CRONILY?) (CRANNELLY?). Looking for birth, death, marriage certificates, etc.), Walter J. Bank, wjbank@erols.com, 7704 Massena Road, Bethesda, Maryland, USA 20817

His son James LYNCH may have been born in Ireland. (who may have also used the name Francis James LYNCH. All the other references in old letters say "James" and the family tree and all other genealogical sources use the name James, so this other name, Francis James LYNCH is a remote possibility) and married Marguerite HOWLEY in Quebec Canada in 1843. (Margaret's father, Patrick HOWLEY arrived in Quebec in 1828, probably with wife and children. Wife's maiden name was Margaret COOK. There are no birth dates available for either of them. All families were Catholic.) James and Marguerite's children were James (1853), Mary (1855), Agnes (1857), and then the family moved to Quebec, Canada, where Frances was born Nov. 18, 1859. The last child was Emma, born in 1861. I am the great-grand-daughter of Frances who was put in an orphanage after Marguerite's death, and then was placed in Catholic schools in Cheyenne, Wyoming, until she left after a disagreement with the sister superior.
